

Trip Inspection Course

Daily inspections of commercial vehicles are a fact of life for professional drivers. They are mandated by the government as to what to check and when to check it.

However, do they really know that they are looking for when doing that inspection? What can be the results if it is not properly performed?

Many drivers are unsure of what should be checked when performing their mandated pre-trip inspection, let alone figuring out, when they spot a problem, if they are still legal and safe to proceed.

This course looks at the requirements under the Canadian National Safety Code Standard 13.

All 23 items of inspections will be looked at in detail, identifying potential defects that may place the vehicle out of service.

At the conclusion of the course, candidates will be guided through a vehicle inspection using your own equipment.
